AUSTRIAN FRONT APPEARS TO BE BROKEN EAST OF PIAVE RIVER

Allied Aviators Are Bombing the Austrian Columns Which Are Retreating In Dense Masses

By The Associated Press. ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS ON THE PIAVE FRONT, Oct. 30. (4 p. m.)—American troops under Major General Chas. A. Frost have established three bridge-heads over the lower Piave River and have crossed the river.

The Americans are operating with the British Tenth Army composed of British, Italian and American forces, under the Earl of Catterline, lieutenant-general of the British Army.

This is the first army to begin operations across the Piave and has crossed the river at the island of Gravedi, Papadopolo.

By The Associated Press. On a sixty-mile front from the Brenta river to the Adriatic Sea in Northern Italy, the Austro-Hungarian forces are being violently attacked by Italian, British, French and American troops.

In the mountains the enemy is resisting desperately and is holding ground fairly well but east of the river Piave he is fleeing across the Treviso plains. Already numerous towns have been liberated from the enemy.

Thirty-three thousand prisoners have been taken also a large number of guns, machine guns, while huge quantities of war materials and stores have fallen into the hands of the Allies, far behind the lines.

Allied aviators are heavily bombing the Austrian columns which are retreating in dense masses over badly congested roads leading toward the Austrian frontier. The 357th American infantry regiment entered the action Wednesday.

Judging from the rapid allied advance it appears that the Austrian front has been broken east of the Piave River and that will speedily operating far in advance, the Austrian infantry will be unable to reform their lines until the Austrian border is reached.

It is not unlikely that thousands of soldiers, Austro-Hungarians are destined to capture or extermination.

The British tenth army which alone has taken 1,500 prisoners Wednesday night and reached the Adriatic Sea, is now in the hands of the Allies, far behind the lines.
